

Come to our town planning consultation events

www.oxford.gov.uk

Have your say on a potential development site near you

We'd like to hear your views about almost 100 sites that have been identified for potential development for uses such as housing, shops, student accommodation and offices over the next 15 years.

We are also looking at new planning policies for housing and student accommodation. Future planning applications will ultimately be judged against these new policies.

We are holding drop-in sessions across Oxford – we'd love to see you there. Come along to any of these sessions, at any time, to see maps and make comments about sites near you and across Oxford:
