Dear Sirs,

Re: Horseman Close Development - Marston

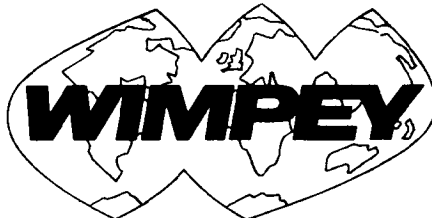

Since receiving your letter of the 10th October 1978, I have obtained, from the Oxfordshire County Council, a copy of the adopted highways map in relation to the above estate. It shows that the highway boundaries in Jessups Close, Clays Close, their respective rear access roads, and approximately 75 yards of the boundary westwards from Marsh Lane appears to be the boundary fence of the estate. If this is so then it would appear that your Company has no responsibility for the fences about which I wrote to you previously.

However, one point remains, will you please confirm that your Company is not maintaining a ransom strip across the end of any of these accesses because this would of course mean that the fences are yours.

I look forward to hearing from you on this point.

Yours faithfully,

Clerk.

Dear Sir

RE: HORSEMAN CLOSE DEVELOPMENT - MARSTON.

With reference to your letter dated 31 October, we would advise that we are not maintaining ransom strips at the end of the accesses which you mentioned.

Yours faithfully

E G Bond
Private Development Manager.
